

The Anderson Falls Heritage Society and the Clinton County Historical Association present:

“The Iron Industry Heritage of Clintonville, New York”

Wednesday July 17, 2019

7:00 PM

Keeseville Fire Department
8 Pleasant St., Keeseville, NY

1869

Program Summary: This illustrated presentation will provide an exploration of some of the elements that made Clintonville one of the North Country’s most prominent iron making sites throughout the 19th century. Clintonville’s distinction has recently been recognized and honored with the erection of two historical roadside markers funded by the William G. Pomeroy Foundation. These now stand as visual reminders of Clintonville’s exceptional heritage.

Guest Speaker: Dr. Gordon C. Pollard – Distinguished Teaching Professor of Anthropology, Emeritus, SUNY Plattsburgh
